

B3 wherein the area of a top surface of said load sensor unit is smaller than the area of a top surface of said measuring platform.

16. A living body measuring apparatus with a built-in weight meter according to any one of claims 8 to 12, further comprising a light emitting device mounted in a cavity of said outer board.

B4 17. A living body measuring apparatus with a built-in weight meter according to any one of claims 8 to 12, further comprising:

a light emitting device mounted in a cavity of said outer board, said light emitting device including a plurality of light emitting elements each emitting a light of different color; and a light control unit for controlling said light emitting device to emit light of different color according to the measurement results.